

Redis is responsible for storing the csv in memory along with it's versions. Versions are linked to a specific user via the database. (?)